Robin Newman, principal at Haileybury Turnford, added: "We are thrilled that Miss Jethmalani has received this prestigious award, endorsing the excellent contribution she has made to Haileybury Turnford and to our students in her first year of teaching.

"We are all very proud of what she has achieved."

Miss Jethmalani has now been shortlisted to win one of just 15 Gold Awards later in the year, in a programme which will be broadcast on the BBC.

The programme is set to celebrate school staff who have worked wonders during an incredibly tough time for educators across the country.

Haileybury Turnford was also nominated in the category Making a Difference - Secondary School of the Year.

The Pearson National Teaching Awards is an annual celebration of excellence in education, founded in 1998 by Lord Puttnam to recognise the life-changing impact an inspirational teacher can have on the lives of the young people they work with.

This year marks its 22nd year of celebrating teachers, teaching assistants, head teachers and lecturers across the UK.
