What is it like to attend this school?

“Pupils love the fact that their school is friendly and welcoming. They say that it is a school where they can be themselves. This is because it is a very tolerant community. Pupils feel very safe.”

What is it like to attend this school?

“The school helps pupils to become better citizens. Teachers support pupils well, but pupils also support each other. They have lots of opportunities to become leaders and contribute to the school.”

What is it like to attend this school?

“Pupils value how every lesson in the school has familiar elements. Teachers make it clear when they are introducing new things. They give pupils the chance to practise new skills and recall content. They make sure that important information has been fixed in pupils’ minds.”

What is it like to attend this school?

“The school’s ‘flexible learning’ department supports pupils with special educational needs and/or disabilities (SEND) effectively. Teachers receive detailed information about strategies for each pupil with SEND.”

What is it like to attend this school?

“Leaders have introduced effective strategies to strengthen reading across the curriculum. These include extra help for the weakest readers on key words and encourage reading within subjects. These initiatives have helped to create a strong reading culture, which is evident across all years, including the sixth form.”

What does the school need to do to improve?

- In a small minority of subjects, the programmes of study do not cover content which has the same scope as the national curriculum.
- The take-up by pupils of the extra-curricular activities which are provided by the school is not as strong as it could be.

Our plan for continued school improvement

1. A high-quality curriculum, with reading and support for the most vulnerable students at its heart
2. Provide targeted academic support, including for students with SEND and the most disadvantaged students
3. Fully support our students' personal development, including being an anti-racist school
